The largest accurate yield of wheat we have heard so far this season, is a field of 28 acres on the farm of Mr. Elias Parshall, which produced 35 bushels to the acre. Mr. Parshall, when he seeded the field last fall, discovered that he had made a mistake in setting the drill, and had only sown 3 pecks to the acre. He afterwards seeded a bushel more in the field, crossing the rows made at first seeding. This, he believes, accounts for the large yield. Mr. C. H. Boxwell reports that his crop on the "Rosemont Farm" made an average yield of 24 bushels on 42 acres; also, his field of oats averaged 49 bushels to the acre.

Briefs.

We are in receipt of a copy of the Evening Journal, published in Newport News, sent to us by Mr. J. A. Sommerville, who is now in the real estate and insurance business in that growing Virginia city under the firm name of J. A. Sommerville & Co. Among other things that appear in the Journal is a rumor that the Baltimore & Ohio R. R. is making efforts to secure a foothold in Newport News in order to give that railroad more satisfactory tidewater facilities than it has at Baltimore. The Journal says it gets its information from reliable sources and that an arrangement has been made with the Chesapeake & Ohio R. R., which now finds it beneficial to encourage the desire of the B. & O. to come that way. The Chesapeake & Ohio has held the key to the situation at Newport News ever since it completed the James River line. The Journal also says that a new Presbyterian Church is under construction that will cost $25,000 to complete, and will have a seating capacity of 700 people, and that the church is being erected on five lots which last fall were bought for $6000, and $10,000 cash was refused for them in the spring.

Drink Old Henry Pure Rye Whiskey.

The price of Wheat quoted in Baltimore at the close of business Monday evening, showed a decline of 1 ct. during the past week. The market is reported as being dull. Closing quotations Monday were, Spot, 71 1/2 cts.; August 71 1/2 @ 71 1/4, and September 73. The visible supply increased 1,546,000 bushels, and is now stated at 35,986,000 bushels. Corn also declined and brings in Baltimore 36 1/2 cts. per bushel. Hogs bring $4.65 @ 4.75 per 100 lbs.; and lambs are selling for 5 1/2 cts. per lb.

Old Henry is on sale only at F. N. Castleman's.

Among the personal property of the late ex-Gov. Holliday, which he prized highly, has been found a pair of fine riding boots, which belonged to Thomas, Lord Fairfax, of Greenway Court, who owned the entire Shenandoah Valley, and who was the founder of Winchester. The boots have been in the possession of the Holliday family since they were given by will to Dr. Mackey. Governor Holliday asked that they be presented to the Virginia Historical Society at Richmond, which will be done.

Lightning Plays Havoc

A rainstorm, accompanied by severe lightning, visited portions of Clarke county, Friday afternoon, doing considerable damage on the farm of Bushrod Price, near the Shenandoah river. Mr. Price, together with two young brothers named Shafer, were at work in a cornfield when the storm came up, and they sought shelter under some trees.

Lightning struck a tall gum tree under which John Shafer was standing, shivering the tree and killing the man. The bolt struck him squarely on top of the head and ran down his back to the ground, burning his hair, scorching the skin on his back, ripping his boots off. A watch which he wore at the time he was struck continued to run. Mr. Shafer was 25 years old and unmarried.

A little later in the afternoon, near Wickliffe, a bolt coming from an apparently clear sky struck the barn of Mr. Aaron Doble, setting it on fire and killing a valuable horse which was in the barn. Mr. Doble and other members of the family who were nearby were stunned, but recovered sufficiently to extinguish the flames before any great damage was done.

A tree in Millwood was struck and splintered, and Mr. T. S. Gibson, who happened to be passing, was stunned and covered with stones and debris.

Clarke Cavalry Association will Entertain 6th Virginia Cavalry

By order of Major Grimsley, the survivors of the Sixth Virginia Cavalry, Payne's Brigade, will hold their annual reunion near Berryville on Wednesday, August 23rd, as guests of the Clarke Cavalry Association. The large grove on the farm of Mr. A. Moore, Jr., near this place, has been selected by the members of the Association as the place for the gathering of the old warriors who wore the Gray. It is significant to note in regard to the selection of this grove for this event that it was the scene of an incident during the war between the States, which, together with its cause, was echoed throughout the North and South. There stands in this grove the oak tree from which 6 members of Gen. Custer's command were hung by the order of Col. Mosby in retaliation for the unwarrantable murder of 6 members of Mosby's command in Front Royal. This incident will, no doubt, prove an interesting topic of discussion among those who gather beneath the branches of the trees that were connected so prominently with this tragic affair.

Nothing looking to the comfort and pleasure of the guests of the Clarke Cavalry Association on this occasion will be left undone. Noted speakers will make addresses, and the committee on entertainment will spare no means to provide every delicacy that will tempt the appetite of every one of the "boys" as they gather again around the banquet board. We hope and trust that every survivor of that gallant Regiment will see his way clear to be present and partake of the hospitality of their comrades of Clarke once again before they pass over the river and join Lee and Jackson on the eternal camping ground.

The Sixth Virginia Cavalry was composed of the following companies, recruited in the below-mentioned counties: Co. A, in Fauquier and Loudoun; Co. B, in Rappahannock; Co. C, in Rockingham; Co. D, in Clarke; Co. E, in Pittsylvania; Co. F, in Alexandria and Fairfax; Co. G, in Halifax; Co. H, in Fauquier; Co. I, in Orange; and Co. K, in Loudoun.

Death of Mrs. Mary A. Hart

Mrs. Mary A. Hart, relict of the late Thomas Hart, died at her home near this place Thursday morning, of heart trouble. Just before her death she complained of a suffocating feeling in her breast and walked out on the porch to breathe some fresh air, which she thought would relieve her. As she stepped on the porch, she fell and died instantly. She was nearly 63 years old, and was a daughter of the late Edward Dix, of Frederick county, who spent the last few years of his life at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Nicewarner, in this place.

Mrs. Hart was a member of Grace Episcopal Church, Berryville. She leaves five daughters—one unmarried—and four sons, together with a large circle of friends to mourn their loss. Funeral services were held from Grace Church Friday evening, and interment made in Green Hill cemetery.

About two years ago a traveling salesman kindly gave me a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Much to my surprise and delight its effects were immediate. Bride Was Kidnapped.

The disappearance of a bride of two weeks is being investigated by the police at Greensburg, Pa.

The young wife of Eugene Spalding has been kidnapped, it is asserted, and while every effort has been made by the authorities at that point to locate the missing bride no trace of her nor the mysterious stranger who took her from her husband has been found.

Young Spalding tells a strange but interesting story. The couple were married in Clarke county about a fortnight ago. Spalding is about 25 years of age and the bride 22. They started on a wedding tour, intending to visit a brother of Spalding at Pittsburgh. They stopped over in Chester county to visit friends, and on Thursday resumed their journey West.

At Latrobe Spalding discovered that his funds had been exhausted and the couple decided to turn to the Pittsburgh pike and continue their journey on foot. While walking this way two men with different conveyances came up to the bridal party and they were invited to ride.

The bride was assisted into one of the conveyances and her husband took a seat in the other. After going a short distance the driver of the wagon containing the bride suddenly turned from the main road and disappeared.

The husband, when he saw this strange proceeding, jumped from the wagon and followed in hot pursuit, but to no purpose. Mrs. Spalding could not be found. Spalding arrived in Greensburg Saturday night, reported his loss to the police, and the search is still in progress.—Winchester Star.

Spaulding afterwards found his wife. The Cornellsville Courier says the man who drove off with the young wife paid her fifty cents and let her go; that she started out on foot to hunt her husband. She journeyed to Pittsburgh and there spent one whole night watching the people go by until she saw her husband with the satchel on his shoulder. They walked from Pittsburgh to Connellsville.

A dispatch from Suffolk says: The body of Maud Morna Metcalf, eighteen years old, was last week recovered from Nansemond river, her clothing having become entangled in weeds on the bank. The young woman and her father, E. B. Metcalf, aged forty-four years, took a skiff to visit a neighbor, two miles away. They had not returned the next day, so a searching party was organized. They found the overturned boat, oars, and articles of apparel floating on the river. Later in the day Metcalf's body was found.

At the meeting of the Upperville Colt Club on Thursday last the first business was the secretary and treasurer's report which showed disbursements of $2,586.35 and receipts of $2,580.54, showing a little deficit, but the club will be able to square that by some uncollected dues. After this there were some adjustments made, and complaints heard which were not of a serious nature.

Dr. John C. Anderson, who, it was alleged, would reach Chatham last week from Canada, to stand trial on the indictment found against him at the June term of court charging him with the seduction of Miss Messia Watson, the daughter of a prominent Pittsylvania county farmer, did not arrive, and it is now believed that he has no idea of surrendering to the authorities. Miss Watson committed suicide.
